UNDER SEOUL

Our philosophy honors the tradition of the Korean table, where all dishes are served simultaneously. We have moved away from the classic division between appetizers and main courses to encourage shared moments and communal flavors. Our signature banchans, prepared from scratch, and fresh leaves are served as unlimited accompaniments – please feel free to ask your server for a refill. Most of our dishes are finished with spring onions and sesame seeds; if you prefer them without, simply let our team know.
Please note that items featuring gochujang, gochugaru, and kimchi are spicy by default.

UNDER SEOUL is our tribute to the authentic flavors of the Korean Peninsula. We consciously reject modern, oversweetened trends, returning to the bold cuisine of the 90s - full of deep umami and uncompromising character. We bring inspirations for our menu from our travels from Seoul to Busan. We create in the rhythm of nature, cooking with original products imported from Korea.
If you prefer spicier dishes - let us know, however, out of respect for our culinary DNA, we never reduce the base spiciness of our dishes.
We respect food, so if you haven't finished everything, feel free to ask for a takeaway container (2.50).
To ensure quality of service, we do not split bills at one table, and a 10% service charge is added to groups of 8 or more.
Place delivery orders directly through www.underseoul.pl. We only use free-range eggs.
All handmade banchan from Under Seoul are available to go in jars - ask your server.
